

DEVIN HENDERSON

Clean Comedian and “Recovering” Magician.

In 2017 Devin Henderson placed third out of forty plus people in the “Clash of the Comics” competition at the Kansas City Improv Comedy Club. Devin has opened for comedians Sinbad and Mike Birbiglia, mainly because he likes to open for comedians with weird names. His clean approach to comedy has allowed him to play colleges, churches and corporations across the U.S. He has performed in all 50 states except Hawaii, Alaska...and about 15 others.

Devin started as a magician for which he won several awards, but over time his primary focus shifted to comedy — which explains “recovering” magician. Devin now combines his talents of magic, freestyle-soccer and comedy as he jokes about everything from traveling, to fathering, to home water births. Devin is the world's "bestest" dad and most annoying husband, and when he's not pampering Barbie dolls or playing dress up... he's playing with his kids.
